SENATOR GORMAN DIES SUDDENLY

Maryland Statesman Succumbs to Heart Disease.

HIS LONG PUBLIC SERVICE

Washington, June 5.—Arthur Pue Gorman, United States senator from Maryland, died suddenly at his residence in this city. While Senator Gorman had been ill for many months, SENATOR ARTHUR P. GORMAN.

he had shown some improvement lately. Heart trouble was the immediate cause of death.

Senator Gorman leaves a widow and six children, as follows: Miss Ada Gorman, Mrs. William J. Lambert, Mrs. R. A. Johnson, Mrs. P. W. Hill, all of this city; Mrs. Stephen Gambrell, of London, England, who arrived here a week ago, and Arthur Pue Gorman, Jr., of Laurel, Md., a member of the Maryland assembly.

The funeral will be held on Thursday morning.

Senator Gorman long had been a notable figure in the national congress. He first took his seat in 1881, and served continuously for 18 years, and nearly all of that time he was the leader of his party in the senate. Winning early a reputation for sagacity and the keenest judgment in congressional affairs, he attained prominence not only as a leader in the senate, but in the country at large, and by many men was considered the most available man in his party for the presidency. He was chairman of the executive committee and managed the campaign that resulted in the election of Cleveland in 1884.

The most notable contest in his congressional career and one which attracted to him wider attention than anything else was when he led the senate minority in 1890-91 and defeated the federal elections bill. To his sagacious leadership and adroit management his party friends attributed the defeat of the measure which was so obnoxious to the south.

When the Democrats had control of the senate, Gorman was the recognized leader of that body. It was at that time that the tariff bill of 1894 was passed, and although the Maryland senator was not a member of the finance committee, he had so much to do with the shaping of that measure that his name is often given to it and in fact is frequently called the Wilson-Gorman tariff.

It was during Cleveland's last administration that a break occurred between the Democratic president and the leader of the party in the senate. In a speech which will always be remembered by those who heard it, Senator Gorman severely arraigned the president. To this opposition the defeat of Senator Gorman a few years later is attributed, although his party lost Maryland in the silver campaign. As soon as the Democrats regained control of the state he was at once re-elected to the senate.

FREE COAL STOCK WENT TO CENTRAL

No Employee or Officer of Road Ever Had Any.

A. J. CASSATT WAS NOT CALLED

Philadelphia, June 6.—Contrary to expectations, President Cassatt, of the Pennsylvania railroad, did not appear before the interstate commerce commission when it resumed its investigation of the alleged connection of the railroads with the soft coal and oil interests. Commissioner Clements said the investigation had not reached the stage that demanded the testimony of Mr. Cassatt, and he was unable to say whether his appearance would be required by the commission.

The New York Central railroad, the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh railroad and the Baltimore & Ohio railroad were under investigation, the hearings being conducted by Commissioners Clement and Cockrell.

It developed that no employees or officials of the New York Central held stock in coal mining or oil companies. Vice President E. V. W. Rossiter testified, however, that the Beach Creek Coal and Coke company had presented the railroad with 5000 shares of stock, par value $100, "for traffic reasons." Later, when the Beach Creek company was merged into the Pennsylvania Coal and Coke company, this stock was surrendered, the company receiving $1,500,000 worth of stock in the latter company.

James Kerr, of Clearfield, a coal operator, was asked concerning a reported agreement regarding the placing of sidings which had been made by President Cassatt and former President Calloway, of the New York Central. Mr. Kerr said that in all his long experience in the Clearfield soft coal region he had never known an officer or employee of the New York Central to personally hold coal mine shares.

John Carstensen, a vice president of the New York Central, said that he was in charge of the accounting department of the New York Central. He said that he never had personal knowledge of rebates given, but explained that rebates might have been given in years past as "mistakes in billing," and "refunds on errors." When controller of the company he accepted vouchers for what they purported to be on their face when vouchered for by the proper officers.

"Are you sure that rebates are not given now?" asked Commissioner Clements.

"I am sure that there are not," emphatically responded the witness.

The day's proceedings brought out no revelations of a sensational character.

PLOT TO KILL ITALIAN KING

Paterson, N. J., Anarchist Under Arrest in Italy.

London, June 6.—According to a dispatch from Vienna printed in the Daily Telegraph, the Italian police learned that Italian anarchists living at Paterson, N. J., decided upon an attempt on the life of King Victor Emmanuel of Italy at the opening of the Milan exposition, and dispatched one of their number to make the attempt. This anarchist, the correspondent relates, was followed through England, France and Switzerland and arrested the moment he set foot on Italian soil at Como; but the whole affair was kept secret from the public. It further appears, the dispatch says, that all the European governments were informed that Paterson anarchists had plotted the assassination of three sovereigns. It was this that led to the discovery of bombs at Ancona and of a plot against King Victor Emmanuel.
